

The Tale of The Airlie Red Apple

In the 1950s, a family stumbled across an apple tree in their backyard.

When they cut into one of the apples they found that the inside was red!

The family later sold the property, not telling anyone about the mysterious red apple. For over 20 years, the tree sat untouched.

After years of waiting, the tree was rediscovered by a farmer who had purchased the property.

Our friends at Silvernail Farm are now working the land and growing this amazing red-fleshed apple for all of us to enjoy.

Now every year the Co-op looks forward to Airlie Red Apple season. We'll be sure to let you know when they arrive! 🍏
